

History

The Horizon Hotel (opened originally in 1952 as L'Horizon) was designed by legendary desert architect William F. Cody for Hollywood mogul Jack Wrather and his wife, actress Bonita "Bunny" Granville. Over the years, the Horizon has played host to a number of Hollywood celebrities, including Betty Grable, Marilyn Monroe, the Lone Ranger, and Lassie. In May 2006—after nearly two years of meticulous renovation—this secluded desert hideaway was reopened as the Horizon Hotel. Today, the Horizon remains one of the few authentic mid-century modern hotels in Palm Springs.
